DESIGN PROCESS

- Inspiration & Research: I begin by immersing myself in the project's context, drawing inspiration from various sources and conducting thorough research to inform the design direction.
- Conceptualization: Ideas take shape through brainstorming and sketching. I explore multiple concepts, refining them until the most compelling and effective solution emerges.
- Design Development: The chosen concept is brought to life digitally. Here, attention is paid to typography, color schemes, and visual elements, ensuring a harmonious and engaging design.
- Feedback & Iteration: Collaboration is key. I seek feedback, making necessary adjustments to refine the design further. This iterative process ensures the final product meets both the project's objectives and aesthetic standards.
- Finalization: Once the design aligns with the vision and goals, it's polished and finalized. High attention to detail is maintained to deliver a cohesive and visually striking end product.
